

HOLD FOR RELEASE UNTIL [29th February 2016]

Mandangle launches new colourful & stylish mug and candle collection that targets half the world's population.

British Designer Brinley Williams is launching a website mandangle.co.uk to promote his new range of designer mugs and aromatic candles geared just for men.

Definition of Mandangle: noun (informal) - an ornate or fantastic ornament for a man.*

The Man Mug collection is big on fun & laughter with a healthy splash of cool & groovy honesty thrown in. The designs are light hearted, a tad mischievous, sometimes satirical verging on risqué - but never serious.

They aim to celebrate, with positivity, honesty and a whole lot of tongue in cheek humour, true "manness" (new word), by candidly letting men laugh at themselves and revel in the funny side of being a "man member".

They are also meant to make women nod & smile.

Man Candle's on the other hand aims to provide men with a wide range of aromatic candles each with a soothing and relaxing quality. Traditional scents include Eau de Cologne, Musk & Sandalwood, Bois (wood) & Black coffee all perfect for creating a masculine ambiance. Pure manly indulgence.

Man candles are hand-poured in the UK using a premium grade Soya and paraffin wax blend designed specifically for use in our aromatic glass candles and fragranced with the highest quality premium fragrance oils. Once burnt the clear candle glass can be upcycled by hand cleaning and used as drinks tumblers or tea light holders. Burn time is in excess of 40 hours.

In brief - it is the mandangle manifesto to turn the spotlight on men and have a little fun & relaxation in the process through uniquely original, always positive yet stylish designs and creations.
